SUPERVISORS IN REGULAR SESSION

COUNTY LIBRARIAN'S REQUEST FOR SALARY SCALE ALLOWED;
ROUTINE BUSINESS OCCUPIES
GREATER PART OF SESSION.

The county supervisors met in regular session Monday with all member present except Supervisor Joseph Francis, who is still too ill to attend. The regular monthly reports of county officers were read and approved.

The report of County Horticultural Commissioner H. E. Woodworth showed 7001 trees and shrubs inspected, while 483 visits had been made to advise and help in spraying.

J. E. Eubanks, superintendent of the county hospital and farm, showed fifty-five inmates cared for during July, six of whom were discharged, while two died.

Judge Edw. F. Fitzpatrick of Redwood City presented a petition signed by T. E. Johnson and fourteen others, asking for the abandonment and closing of certain streets, avenues and roads in the tract known as Lobetos Colony, situated on a part of the John Meyn ranch in the Fourth township. The petition was filed and a hearing in the above matter set for Tuesday, September 20, 1920, at 10 a. m.

Judge Fitzpatrick addressed the board in the matter of the formation of the fire district in the unincorporated town of Colma. He was seeking information relative to the proceedings that had been passed by the board in the formation of the district, which he said embraced practically all the territory of the First township with the exception of the incorporated towns, and included all the cemeteries, the Spring Valley Water Company's holdings, the D. O. Mills estate, the Thornton ranch, the property of James L. Flood, Baden Company, Jersey Farm, and others. The records of the board, as far as he could find, only showed that a petition had been presented to the supervisors in October, 1919, calling for the appointment of fire commissioners, which petition had been received and filed. Mrs. Nash, the clerk, informed the board that no further proceedings had been received, although she understood that an election to vote on the formation of the district had been held.

The matter was referred to District Attorney Swart for a written report as to the legality of the proceedings so far in the matter and also as to the board's position regarding the levying of a tax to provide for the necessary apparatus.

Miss Anne Bell Bailey, county librarian, submitted recommendations for remuneration of employees of the county library. The recommendations were approved and the salaries allowed.

A communication was received from County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud, in which he notified the board that the average attendance in the Laguna school district, Byrnes' store in the Second township, had been less than five during 1919-1920, and recommending the temporary suspension of the school, in accordance with the requirements of the law.

The recommendation of the school superintendent was accepted.

CANDIDATE JOHN FAHEY CAMPAIGNING IN TOWN

John J. Fahey of Salada Beach, who will oppose Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey at the primary election for supervisor of the first township of San Mateo county, has been a visitor in South San Francisco several times of late. Fahey is making a thorough campaign through the north end of the county.

BOARD WILL MEET TO HEAR TAX PROTESTS

City Trustees in Regular Session;
Costa Wants More Money; Steel
Co. Asks Road Extension.

The city trustees will sit as a board of equalization next Monday at 10 a. m. At that time any persons wishing to protest their assessment may appear at the city hall to do so. Judgment will be placed on their claims and adjustment made where such is considered necessary.

The board met in regular session Monday night. There was little of a striking or unusual nature to take up the time of the city fathers, though many matters, largely of a routine nature, prolonged the session to unusual length.

J. M. Costa, who has the contract for street cleaning, addressed a letter to the board in which he asked for an increase in pay for this work. Mr. Costa based his claim largely on the cost at present price of hay of keeping a horse for the street cleaning wagon. This request was taken under advisement. An answer will probably be given Mr. Costa at the next meeting of the board. In the meantime the trustees are planning on going over the street cleaning situation thoroughly. Mr. Costa's contract calls for certain sections of the town to be swept at stated number of times a week or a month and does not take in much of the northern part of the city where paving has been laid since the street cleaning contract was drawn. When the matter is adjusted a new contract will probably be drawn, taking in more of the city streets and rearranging the time when the several sections shall be swept.

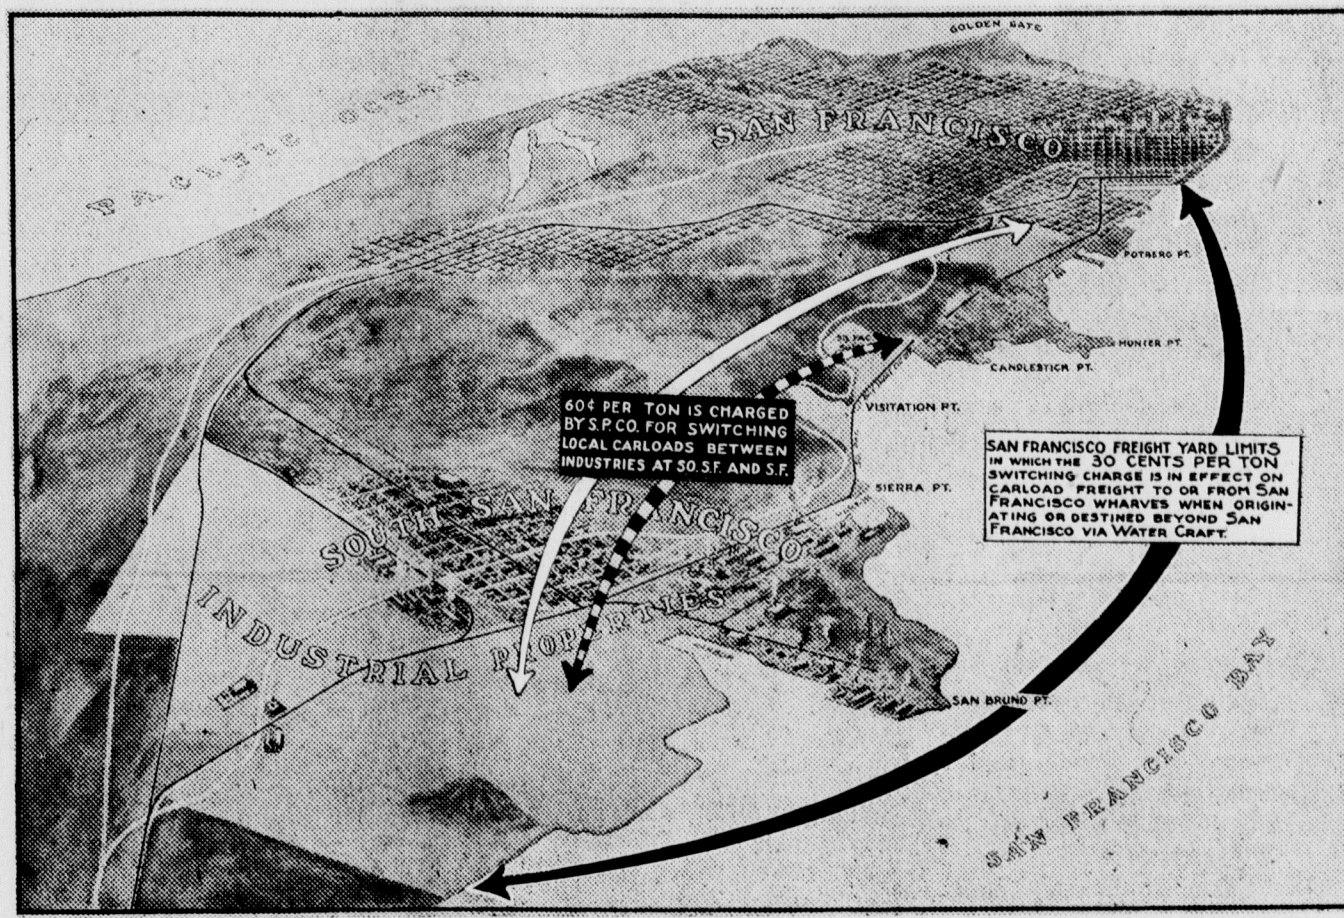

A communication was received from the Pacific Coast Steel Company, asking that the road leading to its plant from Swift avenue be extended to Butler road, near the Edwards wire works. The steel company stated that because of the fact that traffic to and from its plant was constantly increasing, it needed an outlet in the other direction. It was brought out that the road to the steel mill is not a public highway. City Clerk McSweeney was instructed to advise the steel company that for this reason the matter should be taken up with the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company instead of the city, but to assure the steel company that the city officials would be glad to co-operate to get the road.

A certificate from the city hall architects was presented, showing the sum of $9039 due the contractors for work on the city hall. The city clerk was instructed to draw a warrant for that amount. This is the sixth payment on the new building.

The Larsen-Sampson Company, the contractors now engaged in building the city hall, addressed a letter to the board asking an extension of time on their contract. The building firm stated that because of the difficulty in getting labor and material it had been impossible to finish the work in contract time. An extension of sixty days was given, with the proviso that the contractors' sureties offer no objection.

A letter was read from the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, asking whether there would be a room in the new city hall available for headquarters for the Chamber. The letter stated the Chamber proposed to have such headquarters fitted up with a permanent exhibit setting forth the advantages of South San Francisco as a home town and as an industrial center; that an attendant would be kept in charge of the place to meet all visitors and to send out literature to all seeking information, and that it was believed such a headquarters would be an important factor in the future growth and development of the city. Secretary Speed of the Chamber, who was present, was informed that the trustees would be glad to go over the building with a committee

SENATOR SHORTRIDGE CLUB PLANS BIG RALLY

Meeting Will Be Held in the Near Future at Fraternal Hall.

The "Senator Shortridge" Club held a meeting at the city hall Wednesday night, at which plans were discussed for a mass meeting or rally to be held shortly before the primary election of August 31st. A speaker will be secured for this meeting, and if possible Shortridge will be the man to address the local audience. If Shortridge himself cannot be secured for that evening, another able speaker will be on hand. The meeting will be held in Fraternal Hall. Although the date cannot be announced positively, an effort will be made to arrange the gathering for the night of Wednesday, August 25th. There will be a band in attendance and all other things that will make for a successful political meeting.

South San Francisco and surrounding towns are strong for Samuel Shortridge for senator, and it is believed that this meeting will be largely attended. As the labor element has learned that Shortridge is labor's staunch friend, many of the union men of this region are working actively in support of the candidacy of the popular San Francisco attorney.

BACIGALUPI, WANTED FOR MURDER, SURRENDERS HIMSELF

Dolly Bacigalupi, one of the gang accused of killing A. Monocci, keeper of the Adobe House in Pedro valley, who was brutally murdered July 4th, surrendered himself to Judge W. J. Smith in South San Francisco Saturday morning. Mrs. Monocci, the widow of the murdered man, swore to a warrant for Bacigalupi's arrest recently. Mrs. Monocci was present when her husband was beaten so severely that he died of his injuries, and she afterward identified Bacigalupi as a member of the gang who were guilty of the dastardly deed by seeing his picture in the police rogues' gallery at San Francisco.

Bacigalupi was arraigned by Judge Smith Saturday. He was accompanied by his attorney, Nate Coghlin of San Francisco. On recommendation of District Attorney Swart of San Mateo county, Bacigalupi was released on $1000 cash bail, with the understanding that he report every day to Lieutenant Goff of the San Francisco police force.

Bacigalupi will come next Monday for his preliminary examination in the court of Judge Ellis Johnson of Daly City.

Mrs. J. Eikerenkotter and daughter, Beatrice, are planning a trip to Mount Herman to visit at the home of Mrs. Irvine Ryder.

MANY BABIES BROUGHT TO RED CROSS CENTER

Scores of Dimpled Infants Appear;
Health Suggestions Given.

Babies blonde and babies brunette, babies pink and babies white, babies that cooed and babies that cried, babies with curly hair, babies with straight hair, and babies without any hair, they were all at the Red Cross Health Center in South San Francisco this week to be examined, measured, and weighed. Sixty infants attended by their doting mothers had appeared to noon Thursday, and as many more were expected before Saturday night. Every baby has had scientific examination and judgment and every mother has gone away with the best of advice as to how to keep her baby in good health. Incidentally every cooing, crowing, or crying infant has gone away with a rubber dolly as a souvenir of the occasion and a certificate showing in just what way physical deficiency has been shown if there was any.

It is quite a remarkable place, that Red Cross center. The building at 431 Grand avenue has been renovated, rehabilitated, and refurbished till it is a place ideal for its purpose. Cleanliness and freshness is everywhere apparent. Pictures, posters, and charts from the Child Health organization of New York City adorn the walls and lend an air of brightness to each of the four rooms. Sanitation is one of the dominant notes. Even the babies' playthings are sterilized and any roly-poly piece of pink humanity seeking a germ will have to get it elsewhere.

Drs. F. S. Dolley, T. C. Doak, and R. S. Irvine, the examining physicians, all express themselves gratified with the result of "baby week" and with the high average of physical excellence the infants examined have shown. The youngsters have been judged according to standards set by the State Hygiene Bureau and the Federal Children's Bureau. It is planned to hold another similar "baby week" in six months' time, at which affair the youngsters showing the greatest improvement since his or her examination this week will be awarded a prize of $25.

Besides the doctors who have given of their time to make this affair a success, great credit is due to Mrs.

EMPLOYEE AT SAWMILL MEETS TERRIBLE DEATH

James Epperson Caught in Machinery and Horribly Mangled.

James Epperson, a new employee at the Hatch sawmill near Pescadero, met his death in a horrible manner Tuesday, when he was caught in the machinery, both legs being severed and his body terribly mangled.

Epperson was but recently discharged from the navy and was on a visit to relatives in California. He took employment at the sawmill only a few days ago, and it is believed that his death resulted largely because of the fact that he was not familiar with the machinery. While at work Tuesday afternoon his jumper became entangled in some cog wheels, and in his efforts to disengage himself he was thrown against a rapidly moving belt which carried him toward the roof of the building, where his body struck violently against a cross beam which broke his back. He was whirled in a circle and his legs, striking against another timber, were severed from the body. He was alone in the building at the time, and no chance was given him to call for help.

The dead man was a brother of Lee Epperson of the firm of Marquis, Cahill & Epperson, proprietors of the California Garage, San Mateo. He was 23 years of age, and but recently connected with the navy in the east. He had been in this vicinity but a short time, having come here on a visit with his brother.

BIG RATE CASE OPENS BEFORE R.R. COMM.

SUIT OF SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO GET
EQUITABLE SWITCHING RATES
NOW ON IN SAN FRANCISCO.

The final phase of San Francisco's long fight for an industrial area that will give it an equal chance with Oakland in securing manufacturing plants began Thursday morning at 10 a. m., when the Railroad Commission of California took up the hearing of the South San Francisco switching case. This hearing was first held in February, 1918, but before a decision could be handed down the war and federal control of railroads intervened and deprived the state commission of jurisdiction. In the meantime San Francisco won its point before the Interstate Commerce Commission, which decision, with respect to the interstate shipments, gave San Francisco an industrial area within which to locate factories equal to the industrial area of Oakland, and now there remain only two important intrastate adjustments to be decided.

Upon the Railroad Commission's decision on these two points, local manufacturers say, will depend largely the chance of San Francisco to compete successfully with Oakland for new industries.

In outline the switching case is this: On the east side of the bay, for years, the Oakland switching limits have included Elmhurst, which is 9.9 miles from Oakland wharf, and the railroads, by failing to include territory an equal distance from San Francisco wharves on the west side of the bay, have charged twice as much to switch a carload of freight from South San Francisco to San Francisco, 9.3 miles, as they have charged to switch a car of freight from Elmhurst to Oakland wharf. Thus at the time of the first hearing in this case, on shipments such as ferro manganese, ferro silicon, etc., from another state, destined to Elmhurst, the traffic was moved to Oakland and then switched back to Elmhurst, there being no charge for the switching because Elmhurst was within Oakland switching limits. The same shipment, if destined to South San Francisco, would move to San Francisco's break-up yard at Bay Shore and then be switched back to South San Francisco, a distance of three and a half miles, at an additional charge of 50 cents per ton.

The Interstate Commerce Commission stepped in and ordered an equalization of rates, giving the San Francisco side the same rates on interstate business as those obtained by the Oakland side. This was a big victory, but it left the manufacturers on the San Francisco side still facing an inequality of rates on intrastate business. Gradually the area to which this inequality was applied was reduced, so that on business from points beyond Sacramento and Stockton, such as Los Angeles, Bakersfield, Fresno, Marysville, and Roseville, the rates are the same to both sides of the bay. However, the old inequality still exists on business to or from one of the richest regions of the state, an area comprising all the territory within a circle that includes the bay counties and is bounded by Santa Rosa, Calistoga, Runsey, Davis, Sacramento, Stockton, and Niles. Thus shipments such as fruit and grain from Napa valley to South San Francisco are charged the San Francisco-Oakland rate, plus 60 cents per ton, while the same shipment, if destined to Elmhurst, is charged the same rate as San Francisco and Oakland because it is within the Oakland switching limits. For instance, a cannery would find a rate advantage on the

Oakland side of the bay. This condition of rates practically prohibits the location of certain industries, such as the canning industry, at South San Francisco, and creates an inducement for it to locate in the Elmhurst district, because freight from Vacaville and the Napa county territory would be required to pay a higher rate to South San Francisco.

The industrial importance of this is indicated by the fact that the Oakland side thus gets a big rate advantage in any industry which would draw its raw material from the above-described area in which the discrimination exists. Likewise industries locating in the South San Francisco district, although nearer to San Francisco than Elmhurst to Oakland, are at a disadvantage in distributing their products to points within the above-described territory.

A discrimination in local switching charges, according to local manufacturers, casts a heavy burden upon both manufacturers and wholesalers on this side of the bay. An Oakland manufacturer can switch his product, in carloads, from a factory at Elmhurst to his Oakland warehouse or to a wholesale house in Oakland or vice versa for 30 cents per ton, whereas a manufacturer on this side of the bay, for a haul only about half as long (Bay Shore and San Francisco 5.2 miles) must pay 60 cents per ton, or twice as much.

These conditions, according to San Francisco business leaders, must be changed if San Francisco is to have a fair chance to compete with Oakland for business growth.

The South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, by resolution dated March 23, 1920, authorized the action against the Southern Pacific Company to compel the extension of the San Francisco switching limits to include South San Francisco. The resolution declares that the Interstate Commerce Commission, in its decision in a companion proceeding brought before it by the Chamber, held that South San Francisco was entitled to the same switching rates on interstate traffic as Oakland and Los Angeles, and in pursuance to said decision the interstate rates were adjusted September 1, 1919, AND THAT THE PRESENT ACTION BEFORE THE CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMMISSION IS MADE NECESSARY BECAUSE THE UNITED STATES RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION FAILED AND NEGLECTED TO RE-ADJUST THE RATES ON CALIFORNIA TRAFFIC TO OR FROM SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE DECISION OF THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION ON INTERSTATE TRAFFIC, AS IT PLEDGED ITSELF TO DO IN TELEGRAMS FROM ITS DIRECTOR OF THE DIVISION OF TRAFFIC, DATED OCTOBER 25 AND 26, 1918.

As indicating the vital community of interest in this case between all of the peninsular cities, the following have intervened on behalf of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce: The city and county of San Francisco through the board of supervisors and the city attorney, the county of San Mateo through its board of supervisors and attorney, the city of South San Francisco, the Manufacturers' Association of San from the Chamber, with a view of selecting a room suitable to the Chamber's needs.

Communications were received from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and from the United Railroads, in answer to letters from the city asking permission to use the poles belonging to the two companies for the installation of the proposed fire alarm system. Both companies gave their consent.

J. Skrine of the California Iron Yards was present, and offered to buy the old firehouse on Miller avenue. His offer of $150 was accepted, with the stipulation that he stand all expense connected with moving the building to the yards.

A resolution was passed accepting Engineer Kneese's map of the assessment district connected with the paving of Swift avenue.

Reports of city officers were read and approved.

City Clerk McSweeney's report showed $34,930.18, city money, in the Bank of South San Francisco July 31st.

City Recorder Dowd's report showed six misdemeanor cases during the month, with fines of $100.

City Marshal Conrad stated in his report that seven arrests had been made for the San Francisco police. Six other arrests had been made and two stolen autos had been recovered. Conrad's report also told of the arrest by Nightwatchman McGraw on the night of July 26th of a man stealing the tires from an automobile in an alley here. McGraw had brought the man to police headquarters, but while the officer was calling Marshal Conrad's residence, the culprit ran out into the darkness and made his escape. He had given the name of John White with his residence as Colma, but while his home has been located, according to Conrad, the man has not yet returned to it. The local police are holding a car in which the man was driving.

The report of Health Officer Dr. McGovern stated that during the month he had had one case of diphtheria, one of typhoid fever, and several of whooping cough reported. It set forth, also, that the head of the dog which bit the Locatelli child several days ago had been sent to the state laboratory at Berkeley for examination for rabies, with the result that no trace of the dread disease had been discovered.

TEACHERS EXPLAIN THEIR RESIGNATION

To the Public: At a meeting of the board of school trustees Thursday morning, August 5th, the resignations of Marguerite Kauffmann and Lulu Murch were tendered informally, and the acceptance by the board was also informal.

The Teachers' Association of the South San Francisco school met in formal session in May and adopted the following schedule, which would be an increase of $5 a year for seven years, when the maximum would be reached:

Beginners	$ 95
One year's experience	100
Two years' experience	105
Three years' experience	110
Four years' experience	115
Five years' experience	120
Six years' experience	125
Seven years' experience	130

This schedule was signed by all the teachers who declared a reasonable compensation.

A committee was appointed to meet with the school trustees, and urged the adoption of the above. After several hours' discussion the schedule was laid over for consideration at another meeting. At this time the committee was informed that the next meeting of the trustees for the consideration of the schedule was to be a strictly private one.

After this private meeting one of the teachers was informed by two members of the board of school trustees that the schedule previously teachers in the department, which submitted had been adopted. This occurred before the closing of school into the darkness and made his escape. He had given the name of John White with his residence as Colma, but while his home has been located, according to Conrad, the man has not yet returned to it. The local police are holding a car in which the man was driving.

The report of Health Officer Dr. McGovern stated that during the month he had had one case of diphtheria, one of typhoid fever, and several of whooping cough reported. It set forth, also, that the head of the dog which bit the Locatelli child several days ago had been sent to the state laboratory at Berkeley for examination for rabies, with the result that no trace of the dread disease had been discovered.

Monthly bills in the sum of $10,159.48 were audited and ordered paid.

June 23d.

The teachers left for their vacation with the impression that the salary was settled satisfactorily to all. Upon the receipt of checks calling for $120, Marguerite Kauffmann and Lulu Murch refused to accept them, and tendered their resignations.

These teachers have taught in the public school of South San Francisco continuously for fourteen years and have made this their residence.

"DARKEY FOURTH" AND WEDDING CELEBRATED

Tuesday night Carpenter's Hall was the mecca for all the "darkeys" in San Bruno. They came from every part of town, dressed in various and gorgeous clothes. They were the members of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, gathered together for a general good time to celebrate the "Darkeys' Fourth," which comes on August 3d, and also to celebrate the twenty-fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell, which falls on the same date. The latter celebration was in the nature of a surprise to "bride" and "groom." An impressive wedding ceremony was performed, with C. Clark officiating, Mrs. Lindsey as bridesmaid, F. Smith best man, and Miss Gladys Beckner as train-bearer. The members of the lodge presented Mr. and Mrs. Russell with a handsome pyrex pie plate on a silver stand and a silver pie knife, in appreciation of the good work they have done for the lodge and as a token of esteem. This event passed in the merry way that has made the Yeomen affairs so famous here, and now the members are looking forward to a picnic to be held Admission Day.

FIREMEN LOSE ANOTHER GAME BY POOR TEAM WORK

The San Bruno fire department's baseball team was defeated again last Sunday by the Glen Park aggregation, score 5 to 4. Coleman, a former San Brunoite, pitched good ball and had excellent support. Hudson, pitching for the firemen, really deserved to win, but lacked support at critical moments. Errors by Hoops and Shaughnessy in the second started the ball rolling for the visitors. With the score tied, the ninth inning opened. A costly error by A. Wedell let in the winning run.

In the last two games played a lack of team work on the part of the firemen has been very evident. Come on, boys! Get busy with the pep and go get 'em!

COLMA GIRLS' CLUB GIVES SUPPER AT CITY ART SHOP

On Monday evening last a dainty supper and evening of pleasure was given by the Girls' Club of Colma at the art shop of Mrs. W. C. Sheldon on Polk street, in honor of Mrs. James Henderson, who recently returned from Ohio.

The evening was pleasantly spent with several important topics of discussion for the ensuing term, which begins in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson were presented with a beautiful eight-day clock as a memento from the members of the club.

Among those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Mrs. W. C. Sheldon, Mrs. G. Michael, Mrs. G. Wright, Mrs. R. Greene, Mrs. T. Schmidt, Mrs. J. Horkey, Mrs. A. Shinazy, the Misses Lucile Chaine, Martha Frahm, Gussie Kling, Bertha Thiel, Rose May, Libera Boetto, Teresa Stampantoni, Estelle Atkinson, Norma Wight, Josephine and Stella Ferretti, Elsie and Frieda Wilke, Anita and Evelyn Lafrance, Mary and Josephine Lee, Irene and Violet Ver Linden.

MANY ENJOY SOCIAL ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Samuel Simi (nee Jennie Bocci) entertained a number of friends at the home of her parents on Mission road at an afternoon social on Tuesday last. Horkey, the Misses Sylvia Juliani, Irene Ver Linden, Edith Baldocchi, Hilda Bocci, and Violet Ver Linden.

GIVEN FAREWELL SUPPER.

On Sunday night last the home of Mrs. Ray Greene was the scene of another jolly gathering at a farewell supper in honor of Edward Green, who leaves Tuesday night on a three months' trip to Los Angeles. Games, music, and singing were enjoyed by guests.

Lofty Asparagus.

They were very young and very happy, and very foolish and very newly wed. And they had a garden. "Angelina, darling," said the youthful husband, "as I was passing through the garden I saw some asparagus ready for cooking. Perhaps you'd like to go and gather the first fruit of the season yourself?"

She would love to, but she wasn't expert in horticulture, and didn't want to let on. If she went alone she might commit some egregious blunder.

"I tell you what, Edwin," exclaimed the girl wife enthusiastically, "we'll go out together. You shall pluck and I will hold the ladder."

Logical Inquiry.

Kind Old Lady (who has just given Ted some candy)—"And now what do you say, my dear little man?" "Got any more?"

Virgin Soil.

Brophy and Hogan were discussing the High Cost of Living. "There's no need of any man bein' hungry," argued Hogan. "I was radin' the other day that there is plenty of virgin soil left in this country." "An' what is virgin soil?" asked Brophy.

"Virgin soil," replied Hogan, "is soil where the hand of man has never set foot."

Spinal Column Defined.

It's a long, wobbly bone that runs up and down the middle of your back; your head sits on one end and you on the other.

Can't Dent 'Em.

A bricklayer was laying bricks on the third story of an unfinished house, and unfortunately dropped a brick on the head of a colored man who was mixing mortar down below. The bricklayer, his heart in his mouth, leaned over the parapet. He thought he had killed the poor colored man. But the latter looked up at him with a good-natured and forgiving grin.

"Hey, w'at you doin', white man?" he shouted. "You done made me bite my tongue."

That Fatherly Love.

"I punished you merely to show my love for you," said the fond father after the chastisement. "T-that's all right," sobbed the small boy. "But it's a g-g-good thing for you I ain't b-b-big enough to return your l-l-love, that's all."—Melbourne Leader.

Painless Dentistry.

A tourist, while "doing" California, noticed a long shanty which displayed the following sign: "Teeth yanked without a twinge." As he happened to be suffering from toothache, he entered the shanty and asked the dentist:

"Do you extract teeth without giving pain?"

"Waal, I reckon so, stranger."

"All right; pull this one out," indicating the offending molar.

The dentist whistled, and in walked his assistant armed with a club.

"Now, pard," quoth the "dentist," "stun him!"

The public should be left out of the issue dealing with the railroad question, we are told. It is left out of every issue dealing with everything. That's why it is kicking.

A woman in Washington with four children has just given birth to triplets. Her name is Mrs. Busy—and she is.

Trouble with Mexico is that they are all generals and every general wants to be president.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT.

The American Co-operative Journal is holding meetings to discuss agricultural matters. The subject billed for the first meeting is "Collective Bargaining for Farmers." And the news has drawn loud and angry outcry from the protagonists of the class called the "consumers." They complain that they will be crushed between organized labor on the one side, and a farmers' trust on the other. The farmer, they lament, will be the most dangerous kind of profiteer.

Well, keep your shirts on. Let us look into this thing.

A Michigan farmer lately shipped to the city two bushels of early apples, which sold for $1.10 per bushel—total $2.20 for the load. His expenses were: Baskets, 40 cents; labor and spraying, 20 cents; freight and crating, 56 cents; commission, 22 cents. His profit was 82 cents. The retail price we can, of course, only guess, as he was through when he reached the commission agent. But it is well that the city where he sold his apples was near by, so that the freight and crating could be kept down to 56 cents. His original investment is, of course, neglected.

We can hardly blame the farmers for wanting to federate.

The mayor of this town has a far greater opportunity to perform real constructive work in proportion to population than has the president of the United States. The mayor will be loyally supported by his people in every good move he makes, while the president will be hounded and pestered and obstructed at every turn he makes. Hop to it, Mr. Mayor. The honor and the opportunity are yours.

The farmers are missing a golden opportunity. They might invite the candidates to give a practical demonstration of their love for the lords of the soil by aiding in the harvesting of their crops. What candidate would dare refuse?

Because of the shortage of print paper the circulation of the Congressional Record is to be limited to one copy for each senator and representative. Good as far as it goes, but why not make a clean sweep? Bunk is expensive in any quantity.

When one candidate begins to take the lead the others join forces in an attempt to shove him off the mat. And when he has been properly squelched they continue their pleasant pastime of cutting each other's political throats. It's a great game.

Most men can pay two or three dollars for a hotel meal and not bat an eye, but it pulls like the devil to cough up fifty cents for a good home-cooked supper at a church social.

Gold complexion powder is the latest Paris fad, and is expected to make its appearance locally any day. It is quite within the reach of all—only twenty-five dollars for a tiny box.

If you want to know about the real home life of a couple just give their little kid a piece of candy and start it to talking. It will pull the family cat clear out of the bag.

Every time a fellow mentions politics his hearers begin to think of graft, corruption, broken promises and a multitude of other what-nots. Let's coin another name for it.

It would be a simple matter to create a spirit of harmony and co-operation in this town. All that is necessary is for each person to be harmonious and co-operative.

An Illinois professor quit his job as a teacher and accepted one as janitor of the building, at an increase of salary. A case of brawn being more valuable than brains.

Women in India are said to be offering as high as $15,000 each for husbands. But they haven't a ghost of a show against the beauty of the girls in this town.

If politics keeps boiling over we'll have a hell-raising tail-twister of a campaign before the count is over. Whoop'er up, boys.

It takes years to climb the ladder of success, but only a few minutes and one fool move to hit the bottom again.

A busy man can always find spare time to employ advantageously. It is only the loafer who has none to spare.

Our office devil insists that kissing a girl is a sure cure for headache. We notice he never complains.

Mary Jane says it is no trouble at all to overcome the shortage in paper stock. Cut out the cigarettes.

It is the fashion now to go over to France to get a divorce. They grant 'em while you wait.

Why go to all the trouble of telling a joke yourself? It is easier to laugh at the other fellow's.

A man who can be bought and sold ceases to be a man. He is on a par with the fellow who buys him.

ARTHUR FREE, CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE, VISITS SO. S. F.

Arthur Free of San Jose, who is seeking the Republican nomination at the August 31st primary for congressman from the eighth district, was a visitor in South San Francisco Tuesday. Free was formerly district attorney of Santa Clara county, and made an enviable reputation during his term of office. There are three candidates for the congressional office in this district, Hugh S. Hersman of Gilroy, the incumbent, who is seeking both the Democratic and Republican nomination at the primaries, and Fred H. Schauer of Santa Barbara, who would like to have the Republican endorsement.

The other fellow has a legitimate right to his own belief, but he should keep it in subjection when it doesn't coincide with yours.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

JELLY OF UNUSUAL FLAVOR MADE FROM GREEN TOMATOES

By adding lemon or orange, or both, a jelly can be made from green tomatoes which is of an attractive color and of pleasant, though unusual, flavor. The pectin substances and acids of lemon and orange, which confer jelly-making properties upon the tomato juice, are found in both juice and white peel, but especially in the latter. The bitter taste of the uncooked white peel will not interfere with the flavor of the uncooked product.

3 pounds green tomatoes.
2 pints water.
1½ lemons (7 ounces).
2 oranges (15 ounces).
2 cups sugar (about 14 ounces).
2 cups syrup (nearly 2 pounds).

Cut the tomatoes into small pieces, cook in one pint of water for half an hour. At the same time cook the orange rind, cut up small or put through a meat chopper, in a pint of water, slightly salted so as to keep the peel tender, in case it is to be used later in making a relish. Combine these two mixtures and drain through a jelly bag in the usual way. Squeeze the bag gently, in order not to waste the juice which remains behind. You will find that in this case squeezing does not greatly affect even the appearance of the jelly. There should be a quart of juice, more or less, according to the rate at which the water may have boiled down. Boil the juice for ten minutes to reduce it in bulk and concentrate its solids. At the end of the boiling period, measure the juice; for each cupful of juice, add one-half cup of sugar and one-half cup syrup. Boil until a good jelly test is secured—that is, until it begins to jelly as the last drippings come from the spoon or when a drop stands on a cold plate. The amount of jelly secured will be at least three glasses or somewhat more than one pint. It may under favorable circumstances be almost twice this.

If the juice when poured into glasses shows signs of jelling, but does not set at once, set it away, lightly covered with cloth, for several days; you may secure a fine, firm jelly at the end of a week. It should then be covered with hot paraffin as usual.

In our own experience, the jellies made with a large proportion of corn syrup will be satisfactory if served within an hour or two after turning out of the glass, but do not "hold up" perfectly if left to stand for a day or two, even though quite firm in the beginning.

In case oranges are high in price, a larger amount of lemon may be used. Two lemons may ordinarily be substituted for one orange, but the flavor will be a decidedly different one.

Use pulp left after draining for sweet spiced green tomato relish.

TRY RAGOUT OF MUTTON WITH SUMMER SQUASH FOR CHANGE

Many people like a dish of mutton and summer squash in season. This recipe is recommended by the Home Economics Kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture:

2 pounds mutton from the shoulder or breast.
1 onion.
1 medium-sized summer squash.
1 sweet green pepper.
2 stalks celery.
4 medium-sized potatoes.
¼ teaspoon powdered thyme.
¼ teaspoon powdered marjoram.
Bit of bay leaf.
Garlic.
Salt.

Cut the meat into small cubes and place in a deep baking dish. Cook in a hot oven until well browned. Add the onion cut into cubes, the summer squash sliced, sweet peppers and celery cut into small pieces, and the other seasonings. Sufficient flavor of garlic will be obtained by rubbing the dish with a clove of garlic or by adding a very thin slice from one of the cloves. Cover the dish and allow the vegetables to cook for an hour with the meat, without the addition of water. Then add the potatoes cut into slices. Cover the dish again and cook for another hour.

By Betsy.

Did you ever notice that much valuable time is lost in waiting? Often it is exasperating, but there may be times when we are forced to wait for reasons we do not understand at the time.

Last week brought a good example of this to me. I had planned a trip at the week-end, but reached the station five minutes too late for my train. To my displeasure, I had to wait two and one-half hours for the next. I was much like Pollyanna; there was something to look forward to that I had not expected, but I did not dream how much was in store for me.

After boarding the train and getting comfortably seated and about to read a magazine, I looked up and saw a young man neatly dressed carrying a small baby done up in a blanket, who sat down across from me. I noticed he was not accustomed to handling babies, so at the first chance I asked him to let me have the little one. It was such a bright little thing and so poorly taken care of. Upon questioning the father, it was evident from the story related that the mother had left the little one to take its chance in this old world, of whose ways the little mite knew nothing.

Of course there are two sides to every story. I heard but one, and as we are not here to judge, it can only be said that the father was at the present trying to do his duty. I held and loved that baby for three and one-half hours. It was well worth waiting for. It is to be hoped and prayed that God in his goodness will bestow upon this little mite the gifts of love and forbearance, and that the good thoughts of the father and child will in turn bring that mother back to those she left.

Upon parting, the father remarked: "You were a God-send to me this morning." Little did he know the pleasure it gave me and the food for thought, and I know that I had waited for that hot and dusty trip all week for a reason.

BETSY.

We are a country of spies. We have had our war spies, our profiteering and spending spies, and some day we hope to have a working spree.

"Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven"

Inside the great brass statue of Moloch a roaring fire was built on holy days.

And into the seething arms of the pitiless god mothers hurled their screaming infants.

In the South Sea Islands, when either parent died, the children were slain and buried also, to wait the parent in the other world.

In China the girl babies were drowned; in Greece they were exposed upon the bleak and bitter mountainsides.

And even Socrates, the greatest of the Greeks, saw nothing in the practise to condemn.

Thus the ancient heathen world treated its babies.

Who was it that changed the world's thought about children? Who made them the most important citizens of the world?

Jesus of Nazareth. It was He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

He gave them the proud privilege of being His friends.

In every age His Church has been the champion of childhood. Dathus, a Christian Bishop, founded the first orphan asylum. All the laws for the protection of children have their roots and their security in His Church.

NOTIZIE DALLA CONTEA IN ITALIANO.

AUTOMOBILE RUBATA E POI TROVATA ROVINATA

Parecchie sere fa, in San Francisco, ignoti ladri rubavano a tale J. Vignotti abitante alla cosiddetta "Eleven-and-a-Half-Mile House," una bellissima e nuova automobile di marca Studebaker. Il giorno seguente l'automobile fu trovata tutta rovinata in un burrone nelle vicinanze di Half-moon Bay. I sedili furono tagliati in tanti nastri con un affilato coltello. I ladri come il solito sono sempre al largo.

S. GIANELLA TROVA L'ORO NELLE SUE PRETESE MINE

SEVERAMENTE MULTATO PER TRASCURANZA NEL GUIDARE L'AUTOMOBILE

Martedì è stato arrestato in South San Francisco certo Harmon Bittmann. Egli è stato tradotto davanti al giudice W. J. Smith sotto l'accusa di guidare la sua automobile trascuratamente. Il giudice lo multò di 100 dollari. Il Bittmann e J. Wood di questa città, lunedì sera erano in un'automobile sulla San Bruno road nelle vicinanze della prima galleria della ferrovia subito dopo il Cantire Navale (ship yard), quando ad una delle pericolose svolte sulle adiacenti colline, cozzarono violentemente con un'altra automobile guidata da certo George Cafferata di San Francisco. Gli occupanti delle due automobili furono gettati a parecchi piedi in lontananza. Il Wood rimase severamente ferito per il quale fu dovuto trasportarlo all'ospedale locale: mentre gli altri se la cavarono miracolosamente senza ferite. Le due automobili, però, rimasero completamente sconvolte.

CONSIGLIO CONTEALE IN SESSIONE REGOLARE

I Consiglieri della Contea si riunirono in sessione regolare a Redwood City lunedì scorso.

Tutti i membri del Consiglio erano presenti ad eccezione del consigliere Francis il quale è ammalato.

L'avvocato E. F. Fitzpatrick presentò una petizione per l'abbandonamento di certe strade a Lobitos. Della cosa fu incaricato il consigliere Thompson. Il Fitzpatrick volle pure informazione riguardante il distretto di Colma in caso d'incendi. Anche quest'oggetto è stato trasmesso al Procuratore Distrettuale Swart.

La capa bibliotecaria della Contea Anne Bell Bailey inoltrò domanda di aumento di salario per le sue numerose dipendenti sparse per le diverse sucursali della Contea di San Mateo. La sua richiesta è stata accettata.

Il soprintendente delle scuole della Contea, Roy Cloud, chiese al consiglio che sia chiusa la scuola di Laguna, perché non è frequentata dai cinque scolari, come richiede la legge. I consiglieri acconsentirono che detta scuola venga chiusa.

D. E. Watkins, segretario della California Automobile Association, scrisse al Consiglio dichiarando che la sua associazione riceve continuamente molte lagnanze dai suoi membri, per il modo temerario che vengono guidate le autodiligenze che fanno servizio da San Francisco a San Jose. E' stato ordinato di mettere a ricordo la lettera.

Furono letti ed accettati i rapporti dei differenti ufficiali della Contea dopo dei quali la sessione è stata chiusa per essere riaperta al giorno 9 agosto.

LAVORANTE UCCISO IN UNA SEGHERIA A PESCADERO

James Epperson, che recentemente è stato congedato dalla Marina degli Stati Uniti fu orribilmente mutilato a morte nelle segherie di Hatch nelle vicinanze di Pescadero. Egli era venuto in California per visitare alcuni suoi parenti e recentemente trovò impiego nella suddetta segheria di legname. La sua giacca si ingroviò con gli ingranaggi di una macchina e mentre lui cercava di liberarsi, è stato travolto rapidamente da una cinghia motrice che lo lacero' in modo orribile il corpo del povero Epperson.

IL CONSIGLIO COMUNALE SI RIUNIRÀ PER SENTIRE I RECLAMI DEI CONTRIBUENTI

I Consiglieri Comunali di South San Francisco si riuniranno lunedì mattina nella sala consigliare verso le ore 10 per sentire i reclami dei contribuenti contro le tasse che sono state fissate ultimamente.

Quunque che si credono di essere stati tassati in più del dovuto sono pregati di presentarsi davanti al consiglio e estendere il loro reclamo, e un aggiustamento verrà fatto là dove i consiglieri troveranno giustificati detti reclami.

Alla riunione di lunedì scorso fu eseguito un considerevole lavoro di ordinaria importanza.

J. M. Costa, il quale tiene un contratto per la spazzatura delle vie del paese, ha inoltrato la domanda per un aumento di salario. L'affare è stato rimandato per la prossima riunione.

Durante la seduta fu letta una comunicazione della Pacific Coast Steel Company la quale chiede che la strada che conduce alle sue acciaierie venga estesa fino all'altezza della Butler road. La strada in parola è quella che principia in Swift avenue e che fiancheggiando la ferrovia passa davanti alle "Steel Works" e va a sboccare nella Butler road dirimpetto al Cantiere Navale (ship yard). Questa strada non è ancora stata dichiarata pubblica e per conseguenza questo affare verrà preso in considerazione con la compagnia dei terreni (Land Company) alla quale appartiene.

E' stato pure votato di fare il sesto pagamento di 9039 dollari alla compagnia che sta costruendo il palazzo municipale. Detta compagnia ha pure fatto domanda per un prolungamento del termine per la consegna del palazzo finito alla città. Questo ritardo è causato dalla scarsità della mano d'opera e del materiale di fabbrica. La domanda è stata accettata con un'estensione di 60 giorni feriali.

La Camera di Commercio fece domanda per una sala del nuovo palazzo municipale per le sue riunioni e per sede sociale nella quale si prefigge di tenere permanentemente una mostra dei prodotti delle differenti industrie di South San Francisco. A tale riguardo, è stato deciso che un comitato della Camera di Commercio in unione dei membri del consiglio faccia un sopralluogo al palazzo municipale per stabilire quale delle sale sarebbe la più confacente alla bisogna della Camera di Commercio.

IMPORTANTE CAUSA AVANTI ALLA COMMISSIONE FERROVIARIA

La causa contro la compagnia ferroviaria Southern Pacific che la Camera di Commercio di South San Francisco ha presentato alla Commissione Ferroviaria, e' stata incominciata giovedì al "Flood Building" in San Francisco.

La locale Camera di Commercio ha citato detta compagnia per costringerla a fissare la rata di smistamento, da San Francisco a questa città, come quella attualmente in vigore a Oakland e dintorni.

Presentemente la compagnia ferroviaria fa pagare il doppio per questo lavoro, mettendo la municipalità di South San Francisco nelle difficoltà di localizzare nuove industrie.

How Many Homes Have You Paid For?

And how many homes do you own today? Recently a man came into our office that had decided years ago to apply his rent money toward the payment of a house. He soon rented the house to another fellow and his rent paid the balance on the house. He bought himself another one and another one, until today he owns several homes and has quit work. The rent money he now collects means a substantial income to him. The future is sure, bright and smiling for his wife and children.

Rent day never comes around to the man who owns his own Home.

A deed to your home is the best form of life insurance you can have.

We will build you a house to order, exactly as you plan it and upon a lot that suits your ideas. A small payment down and your rent money will pay for it. The man who owns his own home not only saves rent but makes money on the increased value in his property.

HAS FINE NEW CAR STOLEN AND WRECKED IN THE HILLS

J. Vignotti of the Eleven-and-a-Half-Mile House was the victim of an auto thief with a strong strain of vandalism in his makeup. Vignotti's machine was taken from in front of his mother's house on Dolores street, San Francisco, one night last week. Two days later a vegetable gardener living near Halfmoon Bay discovered the car in a ravine on the road leading to the coastside town. The car had been stripped of everything movable, then the cushions had been cut to ribbons with a knife, after which the machine had been run over the bank into the ravine. No clue as to the perpetrator of the outrage had been left.

The circumstances surrounding the case were especially aggravating, as the car was a fine new Studebaker, had been purchased only a few days, and in the short time he had had it in his possession Vignotti had neglected to have it insured, although intending to do so.
